

GRL Editors Sought

AGU is looking for dynamic, well-organized scientists with high editorial standards and strong leadership skills to serve as Editors of Geophysical Research Letters. The search committee is currently looking for candidates from the fields of atmospheric sciences, space sciences, and oceans. The new Editors will be appointed for a 3-year term, beginning as soon as possible.

Applicants should be respected leaders in the community, independent-minded, and even-handed. As Editor you should be committed to further strengthen GRL as a leading AGU letters journal and be proactive in attracting innovative contributions in traditional disciplines and in emerging fields, and able to commit to GRL's fast publication pace. The Union is interested in attracting papers in developing areas and ensuring that readers of GRL receive the best, most timely, and highest impact information possible.

As Editor you will

- have full authority to accept or reject submitted papers
- handle the review process
- seek out stimulating papers for inclusion in the journal.

A Search Committee appointed by the Union President evaluates candidates and conducts personal interviews with a small number of highly qualified individuals. The President makes the final selection and appointment. All AGU Editors serve at the pleasure of the AGU President.

If you would like to be considered as an Editor of GRL, send your curriculum vitae with a letter of interest via email to Pubmatters@agu.org. If you would like to nominate a highly qualified colleague, send a letter of recommendation to the same email address. Please make sure that you specify GRL in the subject line of the email.
